A Time to Reflect
A Time to Rejoice
A Time to Plan

Always be full of joy in the Lord. I say it again—rejoice! (Phil.4:4 NLT)

Where has summer gone? School is starting August 10 for Jackson County Schools. The pictures are some of the summer scenes. We rejoice at all of the opportunities that we were blessed to be a part of. The bottom left picture is something new we tried this summer. A group of ladies from a local nursing home joined us on the last day of dance camp. They enjoyed watching the campers give a presentation of some of the moves they learned during the week. Then there was a time that the campers and residents did crafts together and shared a meal. It was a highlight of the summer for the residents and the campers also enjoyed this special time.

We were blessed with some great work groups. One of the pastors commented on how his students appreciated the accommodations, the coordinated planning by our staff and that the students valued the fact that they were able to do “real work”. A recipient of their work stated “that she had never experienced such kindness before”. Our summer intern, Natalie Carl, painted a beautiful mural (bottom right) on campus with the help of her friend and fellow student from Jackson County High School, Talynn Marcum.

Now we continue to rejoice as we put the final plans together for our fall and winter programs. If you have a group that wants to be a part of volunteer group in 2023, please contact our office. We are blessed to have supporters like you who contribute your prayers, time, and finances to make our efforts possible. To God be the glory!!!
